MCN has now made it possible for you to create your own autoresponder or vacation away message, free of charge. When you set up an autoresponder you enable a message to be sent to anyone who emails you during a specified period of time. For instance, should you go ice fishing in Finland for two weeks and won't be able to respond to emails during that time you can make it so that everyone who emails you during that two week period will receive a message saying you'll be gone and won't be able to respond with exact dates.
